To Whom It May Concern:

With the amount of travelling I do each week 1000 - 1500 km's, I couldn't ignore trying out the Mtech Fuel Saver. At first I was sceptical of its immediate success. However, I have been using the Mtech Fuel Saver in my Chrysler PT Cruiser for the past 6 months. I will point out my car has 250,000 km's on the odometer. Within a week of driving the car I noticed the immediate increase in fuel efficiency and also the power of the car.

I am about to rack up 280,000 km's and I would have to say the Fuel Saver has increased my fuel efficiency by at least 20% on most fills. Based on this products track record to date, the increasing cost of fuel and the potential to help to the environment by reducing carbon emissions, I would suggest it has to be a product you cannot avoid to road test.
